These Terms of Use ("ToU") govern your access to, and use of the Website, and all services available on the Website ("Services").

In these ToU, we use the term Kering (and "we", "us" and "our") to refer to Kering, the owner of this Website as identified above. The term "you" refers to the user or visitor of our Website. The term "Content" means all the information and materials included on the Website (such as, without limitation, images, photographs, videos, documents, reports, figures, logos, graphics, colors, layouts, fonts, designs, and software).

Please read these ToU carefully before using the Website. By using the Website and the Services offered, you acknowledge that you have read and agree to be bound by these ToU. If you do not agree to all of these ToU, please do not access or use the Website.

Updates to these Terms of Use

We may amend or update or otherwise modify all or part of these ToU from time to time without notice. The most current version of these ToU will always be published on the Website. The revised Terms of Use will be effective and binding immediately upon being published.

Our Privacy Policy

The Kering Privacy Policy governs the use and processing of the personal data we collect from, or provided by, you through the Website. We recommend that you read our Privacy Policy which is available by clicking here.

Access to, and Use of the Website and the Content

Ensure that you have all necessary equipment, hardware, software, operating systems, network cards, Internet browser and other elements allowing you to access and use the Website and the Content. The Content of the Website is for your general information and use only. It is subject to change without notice. You assume all responsibility for any accesses to, and use of the Website, the Content, the Services and any linked sites.

In particular you shall be solely liable for any use of the Website and the Content that is not compliant with the laws and regulations in force and you agree to indemnify and hold Kering, its officers, directors, shareholders, employees, and affiliates, harmless from any demands, loss, liability, claims or expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), made against Kering by any third party due to or arising out of, or in connection with, your use of the Website, the Content or any Service provided.

Services

This website and The Environmental P&L (EP&L) published by Kering are the product of a methodology developed by Kering to measure the potential impact of an economic activity on the environment, applying financial metrics. The website is one among other manifestations of Kering's commitment to protect the environment and leadership in sustainability. Kering aims to share the EP&L methodology with the general business community in an effort to encourage other actors to minimize the impact of their own industrial and economic activities on the environment.

To access the underlying EP&L datasets, you will be asked to provide your first and last name as well as your email address.

The personal data provided by you to subscribe will be processed in accordance with our Privacy Policy that you can read by clicking here.

Kering, may suspend or terminate your use of this Service at any time and for any or no reason in its sole discretion, even if access to, and use of this Service continues to be allowed to others.
